With resurfacing project

City to soothe its paving headache

By DALE GOWING
Of The Roman Staff

One of Romulus' biggest headaches — its roads — are in for a soothing when a $2 million paving project gets underway in the fall.

Approximately 20 miles of gravel roads will receive a blanket of blacktop to ease the city's reputation of having some of the worst roads in Western Wayne County.

Bids will be awarded for the project within the next three weeks, according to John Chihan, city planner and industrial coordinator. The paving will be financed by a $1,515,000 bond sale with the city paying the additional $500,000 in cash.

THE BOND SALE will be advertised immediately, and the construction contract will be awarded as soon as the bonds are sold, Chihan said.

'Romulus has about the worst roads of any area around...and the drainage is terrible, too...'

Romulus Department of Public Works official Jim Radford said of the city's approximate total of 125 miles of streets and roads, about 97 miles are gravel. Of the remaining paved roadways, several are showing signs of wear, he added.

"Romulus has about the worst roads of any area around," Radford said. "And the drainage is terrible, too. Of course, it's only been a city for four years and most cities have gone through what it's doing right now."

"It's only a matter of time until Romulus catches up."

HE CRITICIZED the results of Romulus' first paving program last spring, claiming:

that portions of the new surfaces already are breaking up.

"The contractor did a poor job last year," he said. "He was supposed to come back and repair the holes that formed in the roads."

Radford added that an area of Smith Road west of Middlebelt is the worst.

"It started breaking up in the spring even though it was paved only last fall," he said.

"The contractor patched the road, but now it looks like heck. It is my understanding that he's supposed to come back and repair it."

RADFORD EXPLAINED that an updated drainage ditch system is scheduled for construction at the same time as the road resurfacing, which could relieve the city's poor storm drainage.

"The present ditches are not getting rid of the water. The city is one big holding pond," he said. "But that's the county's responsibility."

The new paving project will change many of the roads from the local to major thoroughfare category.

"It will upgrade the road system," he added.

Tenants charge harassment

Park owner renovates site

BY DALE GOWING
Of The Roman Staff

A lawsuit has been filed by two Romulus mobile homeowners against the owner of the Metro Mobile Home Park on Van Born Road for alleged harassment of the two tenants.

Livonia attorney Eugene S. Hoiby said he filed for and received an injunction in Wayne County Circuit Court, prohibiting park owner Frank Royster from allegedly trying to force the two tenants into signing new 1-year leases in accordance with the moving of their homes from one part of the park to another.

"Royster is remodeling his park and he wants all of the tenants to move to another place (in the back of the park) which no one objects to," Hoiby said. "But he wants the tenants to sign new 1-year leases and upgrade their trailers, too."

"THE STATE STATUTES say he can relocate the trailers, but without cost to the owners."

Hoiby said forcing the tenants to sign new leases would be a violation of that stipulation.

One of the tenants, Patricia Umholtz, objects to having to sign a new lease because she plans to buy a house elsewhere and doesn't want to be locked into a lease at the park.

She said Royster also wants her to buy a new trailer at least 12 feet wide and 50 feet long within 90 days.

"City codes only call for a 12-by-50 foot pad, and you can put any size trailer on it," she said. "But he said I can't have trailers less than 12-by-50."

TENANT TERMINATION papers have been served to Mrs. Umholtz, and the other tenant, meaning that eviction notices will be served in 30 days if Royster's regulations are not met.

But, Hoiby has taken the case to court.

"He (Royster) is just trying to make a few bucks by making the tenants sign new leases," he said. "The law is on the tenants' side and I will ask for a permanent injunction at a hearing Friday. The temporary injunction now says Royster can't bother these people until there is a court hearing."

"Mrs. Umholtz will agree to move within the park as long as she doesn't have to sign a new lease."

"You can't move people around arbitrarily any more." The days of the old trailer parks are gone.

HOIBY SAID ROYSTER'S attorney, Vincent Dunn of Detroit, "probably will acquiesce to the tenants' wishes."

Royster said in last week's The Romulus Roman that to meet requirements of the loan agency providing him with money to renovate the park, all trailers must be at least 12-feet wide. That width is not required by city building codes, however.

"I'm not trying to be hard-nosed, but I don't see why I shouldn't be able to upgrade my park, if I want to," he added.

He said Monday that Mrs. Umholtz's charges of harassment are unfounded, adding "I would say the reverse probably is possible, though."

ROYSTER WOULD MAKE no other comment regarding the suit except to say "I anticipate going to court. I think I'm right."

Dunn was unavailable for comment.

School officials defend position on awarding rubbish contract

By HENRY CANTIN
Of The Roman Staff

Romulus school administrators this week defended their position on awarding a rubbish removal contract to a bidder for a cost other than the lowest price offered.

The contract for rubbish removal in the school district for the 1974-75 school year was awarded to the Canejo Trucking Co. of 16321 Dodge St., Romulus, at a special school board session July 22.

Carl W. Morris, president of the Romulus Board of Education, Monday defended the school board's action in awarding the contract to Canejo.

"THE CANEJO FIRM'S services last year were excellent and pickups always were on time regardless of weather conditions and were never missed. The board felt that staying with the Canejo firm was justified despite the slight difference in the bids received," he said.

"In addition the school board reserves the right to accept the bid that in the opinion of the school board is best for the school district or reject all bids if the situation requires it," Morris added.

The Canejo firm, which handled the rubbish removal during the 1973-74 school year, is owned and operated by Gervazio Candejo, former member of the school board. Canejo served on the school board from 1970 to 1972.

The bid, submitted by Canejo, called for the payment of $3 per daily pickup at the school district's 10 buildings and administrative offices.

'...I know of no other way to end unnecessary wasting of taxes...'

THE LOW BID OF $2.85 per daily pickup, or 15 cents below Canejo's, was submitted by the Aaro Disposal Inc. of Livonia.

According to school records, Aaro owner Robert Runco's brother, John, as the R.S. Rubbish Co., had the contract for two years prior to the Canejo firm.

School officials reported dissatisfaction with the services performed by the R.S. Rubbish Co.

Robert Runco, who said he is a landowner and taxpayer in the City of Romulus, criticized the board of education for awarding the contract to the Canejo firm.

RUNCO IN A LETTER to The Romulus Roman criticizing the school board said:

"In June, 1974, my company submitted a proposal on the school district's rubbish removal requirements for the 1975 school year. Although I was told that it was the lowest bid, the contract was awarded to another company at a substantially higher cost.

"The competency of my company was not in question, since it had been highly recommended. However, it happens that a principle of the company receiving the contract was, at one time, on the school board."

"This event occurred several weeks ago, and disgusted as I was at the time, I was undecided whether to take some type of action. However, I also am a landowner as well as a taxpayer in Romulus, and although a few hundred dollars of unnecessary spending on the part of the school district may seem trivial to some, it may well be indicative of an even greater misuse of public taxes within the district."

"WITH POLITICAL CORRUPTION at its height and the threat of an increased cost of living at inflationary bounds, I know of no other way to end unnecessary wasting of taxes and general misuse of public and private funds than to make facts such as these known to the public."

The rubbish collecting contract awarded to Canejo calls for a total of 2,308 pickups during a 10-month school year at a cost of $6,924. This compares with Runco's bid proposal of $6,577 or a difference of $347, according to Assistant Superintendent Thomas M. Janack, who is in charge of maintenance and operations.

With a happy reunion

Her search for certificate uncovers family

By MAUREEN CAMPS
Of The Roman Staff

A search for her birth certificate led Mrs. Lupro of Romulus on a chase that culminated in the discovery of a long-lost sister in Kentucky.

Mrs. Lupro wrote to her native Kentucky for a copy of her birth certificate a few months ago, and the only instead sent back a death certificate.

She wrote back to tell them I was all right. Mrs. Lupro said, adding that the search for the birth certificate continued.

'She wrote a letter to me, telling me who she was...so I went to Kentucky to meet her...'

THE NEXT STEP for Mrs. Lupro was to write to an uncle she remembered vaguely from Middlesboro, Ky., asking for information that might help her find the document.

She had spent her childhood in several orphanages, so her search included writing to schools in Ohio, Kentucky and Pennsylvania.

The letter she sent to her uncle never got to him. He died 16 years earlier, but his son did receive Mrs. Lupro's request for information.

He in turn forwarded the letter to a woman he knew to be the daughter of Mrs. Lupro's father by a later marriage.

MRS. LUPRO HAD been told through the years that her father was dead, so news of a half-sister 20 years younger than she was a surprise.

"She wrote a letter to me telling me who she was," Mrs. Lupro said. "So I went to Kentucky to meet her."

When the half-sisters met, the scene was happy and heart-warming, Mrs. Lupro recalled.

"She even looks just like me," she added.

WHILE IN KENTUCKY Mrs. Lupro saw her father's grave for the first time with her newly found half-sister, Laura Crigger.

Another surprise was in store for her when she discovered her family background. Upon searching out her birth certificate, Mrs. Lupro discovered that she is a triplet.

Although she knows the whereabouts of her sister, her brother is unknown to her.

My brother is "somewhere in Tennessee," she said. "I'm trying to find him now."

With the discovery of a part of her family that was unknown to her, Mrs. Lupro's desire to seek out the other brother is strong, especially after the happy reunion with a sister she waited 40 years to know.

In bike-a-thon

Romulus bicyclist wins $50

A Romulus teen-ager collected a $50 savings bond for her efforts in a recent bike-a-thon for the Michigan Diabetes Association. Elizabeth Kazik of 35493 Garmer, received the award after collecting some $400 for the organization. She was named victor in her age division, 16 year olds and older.

The bike-a-thon, under the direction of Pat Conley was held in Plymouth earlier this summer. More than 400 bike riders took part in the all day event, raising more than $16,000 for the organization. The bike-a-thon, which will be an annual event for the group, helped raise funds for Camp Midicha, a special medically supervised camp for youngsters with diabetes.

The funds raised by the riders financed camp visits for some 200 children from throughout the state. The riders collected pledges from local residents and businessmen for each mile they rode.

Preschool nursery opens registration

The West Mound United Methodist Preschool Nursery, located at 22395 Eureka Rd., Taylor, is accepting applications for its fall program which will begin on Sept. 12 and 13.

The preschool nursery currently is running two classes from 9 to 11 a.m. weekday mornings. A Monday, Wednesday and Friday class will be held for all children who will be attending kindergarten in the fall of 1975.

For children who are 2½ years old, but who will not yet be 4 years of age by Dec. 1 of this year, there will be a 2-morning class on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

More than $500 worth of equipment has been received during the summer for use in dramatics, muscle coordination and housekeeping by the fall enrollees.

The preschool nursery is not a co-op and parents will not be expected to work with the children. However, they can be involved in field trips and in parent-teacher conferences.

Persons wishing additional information may contact Mrs. Jerry Blagg at 287-2913, or Mrs. Alan Morris at 941-8909.

Policemen issue traffic violations

Traffic law violations in Van Buren Township took a sharp rise during July, according to Township Police Chief John R. Willet Sr.

A monthly police activity report, recently submitted to the Van Buren Township Board of Trustees by the police chief, showed there were 165 moving violations and 35 parking law violations as compared with a 62 moving violations and 49 parking lot charges in June.

In addition, township police personnel received 93 complaints from the Wayne County Sheriff's Department while on patrol in the township in July.

The radar unit of the police department was responsible for the issuance of 98 speeding violations. In June, the radar unit nabbed 34 speeders in the township.

Of the July violations, 134 were paid at the township's violations Bureau, the chief added.

Collegian gets honors

Belleville resident Daniel McClure, a sophomore in civil engineering at Michigan State University (MSU) in East Lansing, has been admitted to the school's honors college for the 1974 summer term.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. McClure of 44814 Robson Rd., McClure was one of 164 MSU students to earn that distinction recently. Those students are in the top five per cent of the student body.

Court adjourns road patrol service hearing

A court hearing on a lawsuit, requesting the Wayne County Board of Commissioners be barred from ending Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol services to outcounty townships, has been adjourned sending the commissioners' consideration of extending the patrols.

The lawsuit, initiated Aug. 23 by Detroit attorney Louis Wechsler on behalf of several Western Wayne County townships, challenges the right of the board to discontinue the road patrol services.

The board has funded the patrols through Aug. 31.

THE COURT SUIT asks Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Thomas J. Foley to enjoin the county from discontinuing the road patrols until the issue is settled. The suit also requested the judge to issue a declaratory judgment, holding that the townships have the right to the sheriff's road patrols.

Last Friday the county was to show cause

The intention to phase out the road patrols in the townships was eyed first in 1963.

why a temporary injunction should not be granted.

Judge Foley adjourned the hearing to Tuesday at the request of Chief Assistant Corporation Counsel George Cross, who acted after consulting a special committee of the commissioners.

On Aug. 12, the board of commissioner's Public Safety and Judiciary Committee recommended an extension of the patrols through Nov. 30, the end of the present fiscal year.

The Ways and Means Committee Monday also recommended an extension of the patrols until the year's end.

THE PUBLIC SAFETY committee's recommendation to extend the patrols through Nov. 30 at a cost of $88,975 is dependent on a full review of the service at the 1974-75 budget hearings in October.

The full board of commissioners is scheduled to rule on the recommendation for an extension at a formal board meeting tomorrow.

The intention to phase out the road patrols in townships was eyed first by the indirectly-chosen Wayne County Board of Supervisors in 1963.

The board of commissioners re-affirmed that policy in adopting the annual budget in 1970. The board advised the townships to plan accordingly, but did not set a timetable for ending the service.

THE BOARD FUNDED the patrol service only through Aug. 31 in last year's budget, but continued the patrols after some townships promised to work toward financing their own police services.

An Aug. 31 cut-off was scheduled again this year in an effort to prod the townships in that direction.

Those favoring the cut-off argue that county taxes collected at-large should not be used to provide police services for some townships while other townships and 33 cities pay for their own police protection.

The lawsuit claims that the county is obligated by the state constitution and statutes to provide the road patrol services and that more than 120,000 residents in a 200-square mile area would be deprived of adequate police protection.

THE COMMISSIONERS have the authority to determine the level of services to be provided, according to the corporation counsel's office. The board has asked the townships to provide either their own police forces or to contact the sheriff for the services.

Trustees to consider creation of township manager position

Huron Township Supervisor George W. Moore tonight is expected to re-introduce to the Huron Township Board of Trustees a proposal which would create the post of township manager as the community's chief executive.

The unique move would allow the supervisor to assume more of an "ambassador" role in the township while funneling its administrative burdens toward the manager.

Moore's proposal, which he said was put before the board about eight months ago, but not acted upon, would cut the supervisor's salary from its present $15,500 to about $6,000, while giving the new manager a salary of about $13,000. A secretary to Moore, who presently is earning $7,000, would be re-assigned to other office secretarial duties, he added.

"WITH THE NEW manager government, the township could save $3,000 or $4,000 a year and get more work done," he explained.

"I think it can work. The township needs to get somebody who can take charge, because I don't think it (the township government) is working the way it is," he added.

Moore, township clerk Mary Lou Carey and some members of the board of trustees have not seen eye-to-eye for some time, and Moore insists that such non-cooperation can hurt the township.

Moore said he would not seek the post of township manager if it is formed, and added that the official should be appointed by the board.

"A COUPLE OF the board members like the manager idea," he said.

The idea has received mixed reactions from other area supervisors.

"Some agree that it could be good, but others feel it would be getting away from the true concept of township government," he added. "But as long as it gets the job done in a more efficient manner, that's what is important."

Moore said the current burden put on the supervisor is too great to receive quick action on governmental matters.

Police charge 3 in shooting

Three men, one from Romulus, have been charged with first degree murder in the shooting death of a Westland woman in Romulus.

Held without bail at the Wayne County Jail are Randolph Russell Young, 26, of 5740 Farnum, Romulus, Major James Stith, 27, of Inkster, and Ronald Moore, 28, of Detroit. All three were arraigned in 34th District Court Monday before James B. Stone.

They are charged with the slaying Monday of Anita Louise Bauman, 19, of 4832 Matthew, Westland. A male companion of Miss Bauman, Kosnielko Foster of Belleville, was shot in both arms and is in serious condition at Wayne County General Hospital.

According to sheriff's deputies, Foster said he and Miss Bauman were in an apartment at 6950 Niagara, Romulus, at about 2:17 a.m. Monday when three men walked in, sat down for several minutes, then drew pistols and began shooting, killing Miss Bauman and wounding Foster.

Foster reportedly told them that he knew the assailants. A department spokesman said the shootings appeared to be drug-related, but did not list evidence to that fact.

The three suspects were arrested less than an hour after the shootings on I-94 by Taylor police. They face a Sept. 4 examination before Judge Stone.

City orders new truck routes

The City of Belleville legally can prohibit multi-axled trucks from traveling through its downtown area and other streets under an opinion handed down this week by Michigan Attorney General Frank J. Kelley. The opinion of attorney general was requested in May by Belleville Mayor Royce E. and members of the Belleville City Council for years of traffic jams, accidents and damaged pavements, allegedly caused by multi-axle trucks traveling through town enroute to the Sumpter Sand Co. landfill in Supter Township. After several weeks of waiting, Belleville officials appealed to area legislators to help expedite a ruling from Atty. Gen. Kelley.

City will soothe paving headache

A RECENT soil stabilization program on Garden City streets was scrutinized by Radford, and he brought back favorable reports of the inexpensive resurfacing method, but admitted that such a project probably is several years away in Romulus.

"The stabilization is a pretty good thing, but I would doubt the city would consider it for 10 or 15 years," he said. Stabilization involves breaking up and pulverizing the existing roadbed, mixing liquid asphalt into the chewed-up substance and rolling it back onto the road. The process is much cheaper than laying concrete, but usually doesn't last as long.

Once Romulus has blacktopped most of its roads, the city would be able to use the stabilization process when the roads begin to deteriorate.

The current resurfacing plan calls for work to continue this fall and winter as long as weather permits and resume in the spring with completion expected by midsummer.

TAKE NOTE!

This year will mark the passing of the 41st year since the Wayne High School Class of 1933 graduated. The graduation occurred in the midst of a great depression, and students were awarded diplomas in a ceremony devoid of fanfare and traditional caps and gowns.

The members of that class will meet on Sept. 7 to reminisce and take part in their annual reunion at 1199 Sheldon Rd. in Plymouth.

Class officers have asked that all members of the Wayne Class of 1933 contact MICTOM S. KOLAROV at 721-1724, and plan to attend the affair.

DNR embarks on ticklish problem

By WES THORP
Enterprise-Roman Lansing Bureau

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) is about to embark on what may be its most ticklish public relations problem yet.

And that is telling local people how to use their property. The DNR recently was thrust into this position by its 7-member policy-making body, the Natural Resources Commission which approved zoning regulations for the Jordan River in northwestern Michigan.

THE REGULATIONS will give the state power to regulate land use along the Jordan which runs through Antrim and Charlevoix counties.

This is the first time the state has become directly involved in regulating local land use, a power traditionally reserved for local units of government.

The state's entry into local zoning has come with a series of laws which were passed to save various parts of Michigan's natural environment, the Great Lakes shoreline and rivers which still are in a natural state.

To preserve either of these two types of natural features, the legislature gave the DNR power to designate the areas for special zoning restrictions to put tight controls on any development which would take place in these affected areas.

IF A COUNTY fails to adopt DNR approved zoning regulations for either Great Lakes shorelands or rivers, then the law states the DNR has the power to go in and do it itself.

This is what happened with the Jordan River. Both, Antrim and Charlevoix counties refused to adopt controls for development along the river. So, the DNR has moved to fill in the gap.

This is the first time the state has been directly involved in regulating local land use...

Now, before any of the 112 property owners along the Jordan can make any kind of changes to their land, they will have to get approval from a state appointed zoning administrator, in this case the DNR's regional forester.

The success of the natural rivers program, the shorelands program and any other state environmental program which calls for strict state control could hinge on what happens in the Jordan River area.

IF THE PROPERTY owners and other local residents accept the program, then everything could work very smoothly and the Jordan's natural and wild character could be saved for posterity.

But, if the local residents and others who fear state land use controls start to flex their muscles, the program could be in trouble.

Just on the local level, zoning ordinances have the ability to arouse a whole community.

Township halls and city council chambers are many times packed to the rafters with property owners who are incensed over a local zoning ordinance.

THE IDEA THAT somebody can tell you how to use your land is alien to many people, no matter who does the telling, whether it be your friends and neighbors on the township board or on the city council.

To have state government do it could arouse stronger feelings. Efforts by the legislature to pass a state land-use act which creates a state land-use commission has been stymied in committee because of the lawmakers' fears of state involvement in local land use.

The legislature, however, thought that keeping Michigan's shorelands and selected rivers in their natural state important enough to give the DNR control over how this land is used.

Without taking such action, the lawmakers felt that two of Michigan's big assets would be put in jeopardy. Development along many stretches of shoreland and along many rivers has caused environmental damage and has destroyed the areas aesthetic values.

THE LEGISLATURE felt that it could not lose the natural beauty of these two features which are a lure to many tourists who spend much money, resulting in the creation of many jobs.

If property owners in the affected areas, however, fail to see this, then the future of this type of program would be put in doubt.

Property owners and residents along other rivers which have been pegged for preservation by the state are starting to make their feelings felt. Local opposition to the state's zoning has aroused the wrath of some individuals who have threatened to disrupt DNR meetings and who have threatened to challenge the law in court.

The DNR admits a problem in having the program accepted.

IN ITS 1973 annual report on the Natural Rivers Program, the DNR states:

"Although the concept of natural river zoning is gaining increasing acceptance with environmentalists, governmental officials and property owners, there is a vast difference between acceptance and all out support.

"A general misunderstanding of the program and an unwillingness to consider controls on private property use are two of the biggest problems."

For the community

Shopping center a necessity

The 12-to 15-store shopping center which may be constructed in Romulus would be a shot in the arm for the community. The Enterprise-Roman learned last week that the shopping center construction would be followed soon after by a high-rise senior citizen housing complex, which also is necessary for the community's future growth.

But city officials are keeping the "wraps" on talk about the shopping center and senior citizen housing complex.

The Enterprise-Roman did learn that the shopping facility alone is expected to be "in excess of 20 acres near the city hall."

But without the construction of the shopping center, there is no hope for the senior citizen complex.

The shopping center is necessary before the city can hope to solicit federal or state funds to subsidize housing for senior citizens.

A shopping center must be located near enough to the proposed senior citizen housing complex before the state or federal government would consider funding.

Romulus Mayor Terry L. Troutt said that plans are not even in the blueprint stage for the shopping center, but the developers are attempting to recruit companies to lease store space in the proposed center.

The mayor added that he anticipates the shopping center and subsequent high-rise housing to pave the way for further commercial development in the city.

Along with the mayor, we are pleased about the prospect of obtaining the shopping center and senior citizen housing for the city.

With Americans

Ford has good rapport

Can President Gerald R. Ford with his distinctly masculine, self confident, normal as apple pie personality generate the sort of rapport with the American people that aristocratic Franklin D. Roosevelt possessed more than a generation ago?

His closest political associates—in particular his old comrades from Michigan—believe he can.

If Ford possesses this capability, so the reasoning goes, then one of his great goals should be to restore the popular base of the Republican Party and thereby breathe new life into America's two party system.

THE REPUBLICAN Party was born in Michigan, and it could work out that Michiganders, led by Ford, will bring about the GOP renaissance.

Ford's elevation to the White House clearly has increased the influence of the GOP associates the new President made during a quarter of a century service in Congress. He also has the confidence of a sizeable number of Democrats.

Two Michigan Republicans, Sen. Robert P. Griffin, the upper chamber's minority whip, and Rep. Elford A. Cederberg, particularly are valued at the White House for the in-put they can provide the President regarding the mood of Congress and the American public.

Ford's four C's—"Communication, conciliation, compromise and cooperation"—which he has promised will guide his relationship with the Democratically-controlled Congress, have been well publicized. Less public speculation has centered on his chances for reviving the GOP. If the Ford Administration avoids the appearance of excessive partisanship, the two approaches both can be realized, many political experts believe.

ONE OF THE SHARPER political minds in Ford's camp—House Minority Leader John J. Rhodes of Arizona—wants Ford to look beyond the scoring of small, immediate political points and concentrate instead on the greater effort of giving the Republican Party a more popular, down home image.

Rhodes' suggestion would keep the President above the partisan battle during the campaign this fall. Even in 1976, with Ford the presumed Republican presidential candidate, his approach would be as the chief executive of the whole nation rather than a party leader.

It might be more accurate to describe Ford's task as one of reviving rather than rebuilding the Republican Party. Richard Nixon, before he destroyed his own effort by Watergate, actually had put together a "new majority" for the Republican.

Old line southern Democrats, ethnics who had prospered and moved to the suburbs and an increasing number of blue collar workers in the cities joined forces then with farmers and small town residents who make up the traditional sources of GOP strength.

WITHOUT THE Watergate scandal, history probably would have credited Nixon with bringing about a major alteration in American political life, in much the same way FDR did for the Democrats in 1932.

In the light of future uncertainties, Nixon's departure from the White House at least gave Republican incumbents running this autumn a fighting chance of getting reelected.

The two Michigan congressional seats which the Democrats won in special elections earlier in the year very well may return to the Republican column this autumn.

"Hurry up, Rocky, I need help!"

By TOM OCHILTREE
Enterprise-Roman Washington Bureau

Rep. Richard F. Vander Veen's capture of Ford's old House seat in Michigan's Fifth District was a particularly bitter pill for the GOP. Republican concern became even more marked with Rep. J. Robert Traxler prevailed in the normally rock solid Republican Eighth District.

THROUGHOUT THE country the political distortions caused by Watergate now have gone. Republicans and Democrats for Congress are banging away at each other on the old familiar issues, and both sides seem relieved.

Looking ahead, the way Ford has projected his own image is probably the greatest single asset he has going for him. He has dispelled the suspicious, siege-like atmosphere that prevailed at the white House in the Nixon days.

He does not pretend he is some superhero working his heart out at what has been described hyperbolically as "the hardest, most solitary job in the world." His aides say Ford gets down to work without any fuss or feathers.

Yet Jerry Ford's daily work schedule has been on the average about twice as heavy as Nixon's. Ford gets through it because he is a more decisive man. Thus far he has not locked himself up for hours at a time in the nearby executive office building like some modern day hamlet.

IN THE WAKE of Watergate, if it is assumed here that the American electorate has a healthy skepticism about all politicians, Ford's open approach, his friends believe, should change that public attitude at least so far as he is concerned. They hope it also will benefit the whole party.

According to the current Washington joke: "The White House these days makes you feel that somehow you are attending a University of Michigan-Michigan State football game, without the football."

Nixon has his Californians, Johnson his Texans and Kennedy has his Irish Mafia from Massachusetts.

Ford's "Michigan Mafia" has one outstanding virtue—it's a friendly lot with no high and mighty airs, at least not yet.

PRESIDENTIAL Press Secretary Jerald F. terHorst is typical. He is the first person since Truman's day to make the jump to that hot seat directly from a working newspaper job.

which the House, by a vote of 279-23, adopted legislation setting up a White House Task Force to monitor wage and price developments. At the same time Monday, the Senate adopted a similar measure by a vote of 83-3.

The living cost monitoring agency provided for in the two bills was requested by President Ford who wants to use it to focus public attention on excessive wage and price boosts.

This task force, however, would not have authority to delay or roll back price or wage increases, and could not subpoena witnesses or evidence but could hold public hearings.

Ford had not asked that the agency be equipped with stiff enforcement powers. The idea was to set up a unit which could prod but not force labor and management to use restraint on wages and prices.

Because 55 limit unenforceable

Whoever you are, if you want to know who is to blame for inflation look in a mirror, suggests Rep. Garry Brown (R-Mich.).

Up to now it has been the fashion in Congress to blame skyrocketing prices on the federal debt, crop shortages caused by bad weather, the population explosion and the Arab oil sheiks.

Brown did not say these things were not factors. Obviously, they are. But the tone of his remarks in the House suggested that when it comes to inflation we are all like the drunk who always is promising to give up booze next week. The Michigan congressman explained:

"IT HAS BEEN said that people have a government in order to have someone to blame for requiring them to do that which they should do voluntarily. This axiom it seems to me is especially true with respect to inflation, the issue we are discussing.

"Inflation will be stopped when people want to be stopped, when the people in industry and when the people in government and when the people in labor and when the people generally, the consumers, want it stopped.

"Let me suggest the legislation we are debating is a step in the direction of getting the people to understand that basic axiom - the idea that they should know about the factors that are adding to inflation.

"Through this cost of living task force we hope we will be able to cause the people to appreciate the very reasons for inflation, the causes of inflation in the different segments, the abuses of our economy that are leading to inflation, and in that way to somehow stop inflation."

BROWN PARTICIPATED in a recent debate during

Poor roads cause him automobile bills

To The Editor: After a blow out, a ruined wheel and a bent rod, I find that this is a good time to write you. I am on Social Security disability and cannot afford much more in car repairs. I live in the Oak Brooke area and have to travel along Middle Belt and on Eureka roads, which is a disgrace to an up-coming community.

Mayor Troutt promised some improvements. I don't expect miracles. But...Will there be any improvements within the near future?

manager of the corporation's Detroit Diesel Allison Division. The plant will be added to the present Romulus parts center, providing for additional space for manufacturing and storage. The new facility will open up 1,300 new jobs in the Romulus area.

District sets up free meal policy

A free and reduced price meal policy for school children unable to pay the full price for the 1974-75 school year has been set up by the Romulus Community School District.

Children from families whose income is at or below income poverty guidelines are eligible for meals free or at reduced prices, said Thomas M. Janack, assistant superintendent for maintenance and operations, who will be in charge of reviewing and determining eligibility of applicants.

In addition, families not meeting the criteria set down in the income poverty guidelines but with other unusual expenses due to unusually high medical bills, shelter costs in excess of 30 per cent and disaster or casualty are urged to apply for the free or reduced-priced meals.

THE INFORMATION provided on the filed applications will be confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility, Janack said.

The applications forms, which will sent to the homes with a letter to the parents, may be filed with school officials any time during the school year.

Application forms also are available at the administration offices of the school district.

"In the operation of the child feeding program, no child will be discriminated against because of his race, sex, color or national origin," Janack said.

IN CERTAIN cases foster children also are eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for the program they should contact the school where the child attends, Janack added.

The income poverty guidelines for the 1974-75 school year are available at Janack's office along with additional information.

Janack can be reached at 941-1600.

The Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport bought a permit to begin its $687,558 terminal remodeling project, two permits for $687,558 and $249,800 for terminal remodeling projects.

Major permits went to the Midwest Acorn Nut Co., 29000 Smith Rd., for a $200,000 addition to the shipping and receiving department and to the Trailer Leasing Co., Inc., 3501 Wyoming, Detroit, for a $150,000 masonry addition to its warehouse and trucking units on Beverly Road in Romulus. The 75 building permits issued represented $3,237,624 in proposed construction projects.

Countryside Nursery to open

The Huron Countryside Cooperative Nursery is "gearing up" for its fall opening. On Aug. 26 and 28 "get acquainted coffees" were held at the homes of Sharon Hamilton of Huron Township and Sandy Weimer of Romulus. Member families were able to meet other enrollees and future committee-mates and to receive their membership manuals and operating policies.

An orientation meeting is slated for 7 p.m. Sept. 4 at the Huron Elementary School. Members will be versed in the aspects of running the co-op nursery. The most important part of the session will be demonstrations of classroom procedures to be followed by the parents on the days they serve as assistant teachers. The school has all the basic equipment for a good, well-rounded program. However, there still is a need for a piano bench, small chest of drawers, tricycle, child's record player and sturdy toys suited to preschoolers. Anyone caring to donate any of the above items are asked to call Sandy Weimer at 941-0384. THE CO-OP board recently contracted the services of Sharon Wilson of Belleville as program director. Miss Wilson is a graduate of Eastern Michigan University and taught special education for several years. She currently is working on her master's degree in child psychology and reading at E.M.U. Classes will begin Sept. 9 and will be held each Monday and Friday at the Huron Elementary School with morning classes in session from 9:15 to 11:15 a.m. and the afternoon from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. Both classes presently are at their maximum enrollment. However, membership chairman Sharon Hamilton reports she still is accepting applications, since additional openings are anticipated. For further information, call Mrs. Hamilton at 654-2456.

All around the town

Keyboard buffs meet for picnic

By LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

Although the Suburban Hammond Organ Society dispenses with regular meetings from June to October, the group tries to get together at least once during the warm weather months.

And August 18th's elements couldn't have been more perfect for boating, games and an over abundant buffet dinner. Held at Lieb and Gwen Liebler's Ormond Drive home overlooking Belleville Lake, it was a time for finding out what everyone had been "up to" since the closing May banquet. It also afforded the organ buffs a chance to tinkle the ivories, since the hosts had moved their spinet out on the patio for the occasion.

Another plus-factor was getting to help Lieb mark his birthday and watch him open a number of clever gag gifts. One of the area's more avid boating fans, Lieb even had a miniature inboard topping his cake.

In its 18th year of keyboard camaraderie, the club's only remaining charter members, Bud and Helen Kepler of Dearborn, were welcomed "home" after many months of illness.

Others at the cookout were Earl and Doris Lindemann, who winter in Florida but who just recently moved into their newly-built home on Potter Drive; Wiley and Lee Reel of Belleville (the just-retired pilot providing scenic cruises for the group on his hydro-dyne) and other Bellevillites, the Merrill Birds and the Bert Smiths.

Still others were Roger and Ninnette McClasky from Livonia; Merle and Midge Tucker of Taylor and their guests, Peter and Herta Furbacher of Westland; Jack and Doris Mattimore of Plymouth and Ella Minarik of Detroit.

Completing the list were Marty and Mary Schmitz of Livonia with their close friends, Paul and Elsie Babij of Dearborn Heights; Mary Okorn of Allen Park and the Reel's guests, Ted and Doris Duke of Melvindale.

Popping in to surprise his Belleville friends was Marshall Hope of Homestead, Fla., formerly of E. Huron River Drive. It just so happened he piloted a ship into the local airport and his timing was perfect for saying "hello" to his old buddies.

Collyer clan celebrates 25th

For descendants of Humphrey and Mary Day Collyer, this year's family reunion had a silvery glow to it since it was the group's 25th get-together. Hosts Bob and Donna Demski welcomed close to 100 clansmen to their home on Martinsville Road where games, baseball, horseshoes, volleyball, cards and good-old-gab-sessions vied with a buffet dinner for top honors.

President Wilbur Collyer of Garden City and secretary Sylvia Fowler of Belleville took care of the business end of the proceedings at which Alberta Henry, Joseph Bush Jr. and Donna Demski were named as 1975's prez, vice-prez and secretary, respectively.

The eldest of the group, Lucille Wall, was unable to attend from Monrovia, Calif. since she was a hospital patient. But Sylvia Fowler graciously took over the "honors" in her place. It just so happened that the accolades were kept in Sylvia's own family since her great-grandson, Shawn Zaborowski, turned out to be the youngest baby boy present and Stacey Lee Fowler the youngest baby girl.

Added to the family history book were three marriages, those of Jane Oskey and Terry Cox, Penny Oskey and Dale Warren and Gale Henry and Ruth Derbyshire.

Births hit a surprising high this year with Shawn and Stacey joined by Lori Fowler, Bobbi Green, Danelle Warren, Timmy Raymond and Martin Collyer in the cradle set.

Guests of honor for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Van Meter of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Van Meter of Florida. Others journeyed from Adrian, Dundee, Dexter, Farmington, Plymouth, Ypsilanti, Garden City, Southgate, Willis, Westland and Belleville.

And for the summer of '75, the bunch has been invited to the Arthur Collyer's home in Westland.

Housewarming prompts fun weekend

When a certain bunch of local relatives decided to throw a surprise housewarming party for new homeowners, Jim and Marie Doser of Dexter, they made an entire weekend of the celebration.

Not that the Dosers had to "put them up" for three days - uh, uh, they came via campers and trailers with all their own accommodations and staples. In fact, we hear the host couple hardly saw the inside of their place during the get-together. The only two given special guest privileges were out-of-towners, Mrs. Myrtle Ferguson of Kansas City, Mo. ("Grandma Ferguson" to the hosts) and Mrs. Mary Anne Ferguson of Warren, her aunt.

In on the fun of cooking out, fishing, blueberry picking and even a birthday party were the Bob Ferguson and Roger Ferguson families and their parents, Fay and Mary Ferguson (who bunked it at their trailer on nearby Four Mile Lake).

The First Free Will Baptist Church of Ypsilanti has been reserved for the December 21 wedding of Denise Marie Breazeale of Belleville and Mickey Kent Ford of Ypsilanti.

The young couple's engagement and nuptial plans are announced by Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Breazeale of 48280 Hull Rd., Belleville, parents of the bride-elect. A 1974 graduate of Belleville High School, Miss Breazeale is currently employed at the Van Buren Township offices.

Her fiancé, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe F. Ford of 571 Greenlawn, Ypsilanti, was graduated in 1973 from Willow Run High School and is now working in Wayne at the Michigan Truck Plant.

MISS BREAZEALE

The following Thursday, Grandma Ferguson jetted her way home to Kansas City after having spent the summer months with her two sons and her widowed daughter-in-law.

Wedding takes 'em to Winnetka

The wedding of their niece, Mary Anne Mishikoff, to Robert Allen prompted Harry and Arlene Hall's trip to Winnetka, Ill., last week. Not only did they attend the rehearsal party at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Allen, but Harry was included in the traditional stag party thrown by the best man, Earl Vincent. Taking their three daughters, Kitty, Dedee and Trish along, the Halls were houseguests of Arlene's former high school friend, Jean Brownlee, and her husband, Roger.

After the ceremony in the Mike Mishikoff's garden and the reception on the canopied lawn, the Halls said their farewells the next day and headed for Glencoe on the shore of Lake Michigan. There they visited at the summer home of another of Arlene's friends, Ruthann Fischer, and her husband, Ollie. From there they headed for Chicago where they did the tourist bit before returning to Romulus.

Romulus Sr. Citizens back to city hall for meetings

Romulus Senior Citizens Club No. 1 is back to meeting each Tuesday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the basement conference room of the Romulus City Hall. For most of the summer the group was welcomed graciously at Morgan Manor for its sessions and special thanks are due to Mel Morgan for his cooperation.

Prepacks helps meal

Prepackaged quantity meat entrees available to food services are speeding up serving time. One of the dining halls at a large university serves 80 meals a minute, using only one piece of equipment to heat prepared meat entrees and only 9 persons to serve 580 students three times a day. Trays, plates and utensils are all disposable.

Rainbow theme chosen for August ceremony

Carol D. McCarty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James McCarty of 7885 Mida Dr., Belleville, carried a colonial arrangement of white baby roses, baby's breath, sprigs of lilies of the valley and camellia leaves as she walked to the altar of Grace Baptist Church with her father.

For her August 3 marriage to Thomas Alan Fuller, Carol wore a toe-touching gown of venise lace and organza, the little fitted bodice and long sleeves being frosted with seed pearls and lace. An organza cape effect was used at the shoulder and a wide ruffle at the hem of the skirt and chapel train.

Matching venise lace formed the Camelot cap which secured her three-tiered, lace-banded veil which drifted to floor length.

FOR THE candlelight ceremony at 6:30 p.m. the altar was appointed with two baskets of pom pon and fugi mums, gladiolas and daisies. The Rev. Bruce Thum presided at the double ring rite before some 200 assembled relatives and friends.

As their honor attendants, the bride and groom chose their childhood friends, Pam Barnabel of Belleville and Dale Nelson of Westland.

Miss Barnabel was dressed in pale orange dotted swiss, the high-necked backless frock being covered with a matching cape. Ruffle accents were used at the neck, hemline and edge of the cape. To symbolize the joining of two as one, her flowers were arranged in two rings with orange carnations and daisies forming the larger of the two and orange satin ribbon covering the other.

Bridesmaids wearing identical rainbow-colored gowns and white picture hats were Karla Hall of Belleville; Denise Fuller of Milan, sister of the bridegroom; Felicia Thompson of Paducah, Ky, a cousin of the bride, and Debra Clark of Westland.

THE JUNIOR attendants, whose lilac frocks matched the bridal coterie's, were Shelly McCarty and Charlene Shinn, sisters of the bride couple. They took charge of distributing rice and circulating the guest book.

The bridegroom is the son of Ypsilanti Township Fire Chief Robert Fuller and Mrs. Bill Shinn of Milan. Tom's corps of ushers included his brother, Robert Fuller of Ypsilanti; the bride's brother, James McCarty of Belleville; Terence Ensign and Steve Rennie of Ypsilanti; a cousin, Alan Shinn of Milan, and Daniel Trammell of Belleville.

Members of the younger set in the wedding party were the bride's eight-year old sister, Belinda, and the bridegroom's seven-year old half-brother, Dwayne Fuller. Belinda donned a little white nylon dotted swiss frock with bell sleeves and ruffled hem.

The P.N.A. Hall was reserved for the reception which followed. Guests were greeted by Mrs. McCarty in an aqua double knit formal gown while a green floor-length gown was the choice of the bridegroom's mother.

AFTER HONEYMOONING in Northern Michigan for a week, the newly-weds took up residence on W. Columbia Avenue in Belleville.

The new Mrs. Fuller will be a senior at Belleville High School this fall. Her husband, a 1973 B.H.S. alumnus, is employed by the Ford Motor Co. at Ypsilanti.

The James McCarty's entertained at the rehearsal party held at Bimbo's in Ypsilanti.

Varsity squad attends camp near Hartland

Belleville High School's varsity cheerleaders are back from their four-day stay at U.S.C.A. Camps All American at Walden Woods near Hartland, Mich.

The octette competed against 25 other squads from Michigan and neighboring states and learned new cheers and chants. They also checked with other teams on various methods to raise money for uniforms, emblems, pom poms, etc.

During the first night of competition the girls earned a third-place ribbon and the third night were awarded a fourth place.

Those attending were Bunny Florian, Denise Johnson, Linda Burwell, Cindy Howton, Wanda Burney, Kathy Nugent, Ruth Moore and Rachel Wilson. The team's sponsor is Diane Isherwood.

MRS. MARK PHILLIPS

Bible adds nostalgic touch to wedding rite

Double ring vows were solemnized August 17 at the Forest Avenue Baptist Church in Ypsilanti uniting in marriage Donna Denhart of Belleville and Mark Phillips of Ypsilanti.

The Rev. Jerry Wichert of St. Louis, Mo. presided at the 2 p.m. rite while his wife, Jerilyn, provided traditional organ music.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Denhart of 44256 Harmony Lane, Belleville, and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Phillips of 1453 Witmire, Ypsilanti, are parents of the young couple who are now making their home in Ypsilanti.

THE WHITE Bible, which Donna held, had been carried by her mother and sister on their wedding days. A white orchid and stephanotis added a bridal touch to the book.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, the bride appeared in a peau de soie formal-length gown fashioned with a lace-accented mandarin collar, high-rise bodice and long sleeves with the same lace as center trim.

Her illusion veil cascaded to elbow length from a little crescent cap of matching peau and lace.

The bridegroom's sister, Susan Phillips of Ypsilanti, was in a green floral gown for her role as honor maid while the two bridesmaids, Mrs. Marsha Morgan of San Diego, Calif., and Beth Phillips of Ypsilanti, sisters of the bride couple, were in matching pink outfits. All three carried white baskets filled with summer blooms to match those worn in their hair.

BEST MAN was Nick Cripe of Ypsilanti and ushers were a cousin of the bridegroom, Greg Johnson of Ypsilanti, as well as Mike Wilbur and Marc Cripe, also of Ypsilanti.

On greeting guests at the reception in the Fellowship Hall of the church, the bride's mother was dressed in a pink floor-length gown with a corsage of pink roses and baby's breath pinned at the shoulder.

A matching corsage was also presented to the bridegroom's mother who chose to wear a pink and green floral print gown for the occasion.

Mark and Donna, who are graduates of Ann Arbor-Huron High School and Belleville High, respectively, spent their honeymoon in Canada. She is continuing her education at Cleary College and he is employed at Browning Painting in Ypsilanti.

The rehearsal party, hosted by the bridegroom's parents, was held at McKinney Hall in Ypsilanti.

Van Buren rec hires coordinator to assist with swimming programs

The Van Buren Parks and Recreation Department has hired its first aquatics coordinator to assist in the supervision of the department's expanded instructional swimming programs.

The new member of the parks and recreation department's staff is Irene Mushen of Ypsilanti, who served as swimming supervisor for the City of Bloomfield Parks and Recreation Department during the last two years.

Jeffery G. Clark, director of Van Buren Township's Parks and Recreation Department, said Mrs. Mushen will serve the department as aquatics coordinator and developer of the enlarged Saturday instructional swimming programs.

The township's instructional and open swimming classes are conducted at Belleville High School.

The existence of Belleville Lake with its 20 miles of shoreline running through Van Buren Township and along the northern boundary of the City of Belleville was cited by Clark as a major reason for expanding the township's swimming classes.

"It is important that people of Van Buren Township, both young and old alike, know how to swim," Clark said. "With Wayne County's largest inland lake right in our midst we have been prompted to give our instructional swimming and other related classes high priority."

Clark and Mrs. Mushen hope to get young children to train with the assistance of qualified swimming instructors through all phases of the current swimming programs which also includes beginners and advanced swimming classes for adults.

For further information and registering for the instructional swimming, contact Clark or Mrs. Mushen at 699-2001.

Park still is offering variety of recreation

Lower Huron Metropark and the other parks in the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority will continue to offer a variety of recreation during September and October.

Lower Huron which includes 1,200 acres of recreational land near Belleville has a scenic parkway, several picnic areas, playfields, tot lots, shuffleboard courts and an 18-hole "par 3" golf course.

Nature trails are open daily for self-guided hikes and the Nature Center is open on weekends.

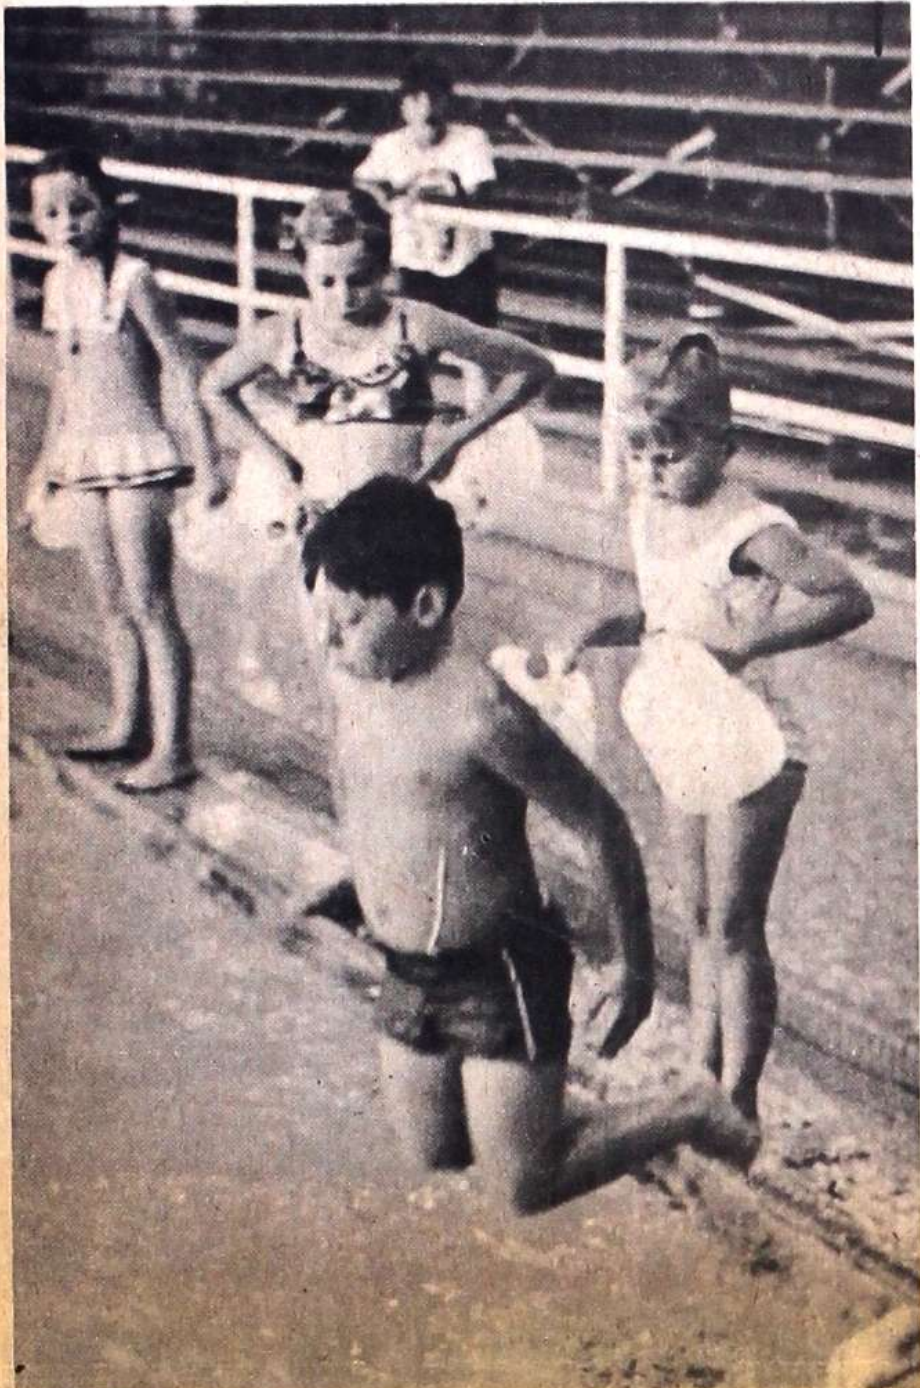

Park hours are from 6 a.m. to 11 p.m. For information, call 697-9181.

Willow Metropark near New Boston offers scenic drives, picnic areas and play equipment. The park is open from 6 a.m. to 10 p.m. For information call 697-9181.

Metropolitan Beach features a "par-3" 18-hole golf course, shuffleboard and tennis courts, games area, boat launching and marinas, boardwalk, play equipment in the children's areas and food service.

The outdoor roller skating rink and trackless trains will be available on weekends. For details call 963-3022.

HERE'S HOW TO DO IT — That's what 6-year-old Eric Klick said just before he jumped into the pool at Belleville High School while three pretty little ladies watched. Eric and the other youngsters had been participating in a beginners swimming class held under the sponsorship of the Van Buren Parks and Recreation Department. The program will be expanded, according to its director. — Enterprise-Roman photo.

Cracks delay opening Of airport's terminal

The opening of the new international terminal at Detroit Metropolitan Airport in Romulus may be delayed until at least Oct. 15 because of flaws in the passenger concourse, a county official said.

Jim Davey, director of the Wayne County Road Commission said that the flaws could cost from $200,000 to $30,000 to repair.

He blamed the problem on an architectural design error. However, a spokesman for the firm, which handled the terminal's design, denied that that was the cause of the flaws.

The terminal had been scheduled to open Aug. 1, but the opening was postponed after cracks appeared in the masonry walls.

Davey said the cracks were caused when the floor, which is supported on one side and hangs over the ground, sagged more than the ceiling. He added that the structure still is safe.

3 attend session

In preparation for the start of the fall semester at Western Michigan University, three Romulus residents recently completed a 3-day orientation session at the Kalamazoo college's campus.

During their stay, Pamela Morrison, Deborah L. Wahrman and Rendell Wooden lived in residence halls, toured campus facilities and completed a variety of tests before registering for classes.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

HAROLD REDISKE, JR.—DIRECTOR

In seeking solutions to previous labor problems through the years, it seems we have consistently created more serious problems in the process. Our present day problems are serious. They affect every one. The well educated, the less educated, the well paid, the lower paid, the old people, the young people, the highly skilled, the unskilled, the rich and the poor. No one is exempt.

The problems are difficult, especially those which concern unemployment, age handicap, claims of being overtaxed and underpaid, strike advantages and disadvantages, employment boredom, employment hazards, indifference, unfriendly attitudes, etc., etc. The list is far from complete. You can add to it.

Can ALL the problems be solved with acceptable answers for all? No. Never. But, should efforts be made to solve them? Absolutely. To think otherwise would be societal suicide. Is it not obvious an effort of individual acceptance is needed NOW—not to a new but to the old thought of "live and let live"—best shown in the doctrine of "The Golden Rule"?

Banks are a necessary friend when it comes to buying a house. Few people if any, can pay full cash, so a bank mortgage is required to make up the difference. Banks, as you know, vary. Some are geared more specifically to home loans than others. In fact some were chartered specifically for this purpose by the U.S. Government. Types of mortgages vary also. In earlier days interest on the loan was the only regular payment and people prayed that they have the cash when the loan was due. Today most mortgages are self liquidating by paying off some principal with each monthly installment.

The experienced staff at NORWOOD REALTORS, 898 S. Wayne Rd., Westland, 326-4500 & 30519 Ford Rd. Garden City, 522-2900 offers you knowledgeable assistance in obtaining your mortgage, and our association with local financial institutions can often eliminate many unnecessary steps for you. Hours: 9-5 Mon-Fri, 9-6 Sat, Sun.

HELPFUL HINT:

Owning a home will give you a sense of security—and will make a permanent place for you and your family to have.

Top off your time savings with Security's big 7 1/4% interest!

That's right! Now you can earn a whopping big 7-1/4% interest with our Security Investors' Certificate.

All it takes is a minimum investment of $1000 or more, on deposit for 48 months. Every 6 months—that's 8 times over the next 4 years—you'll receive valuable interest on your savings!

Not quite ready for a 7-1/4% investment? Then take a look at these possibilities . . . three more important ways to build real financial security at Security Bank & Trust.

6-1/2% Security Investors' Certificates with 2-1/2, 3 or 3-1/2-year maturities. $500 minimum investment or more. Interest paid every 6 months.

6% Security Investors' Certificates with 1, 1-1/2, or 2-year maturities. $500 minimum investment or more. Interest paid every 6 months.

5-1/2% Security Time Passbook. 5-1/2% compounded daily yields 5.65% annually, maturing every calendar quarter. Initial minimum deposit $500. Add $1 or more at any time.

Federal law and regulation prohibit the payment of a time deposit prior to maturity unless three months of the interest thereon is forfeited and interest on the amount withdrawn is reduced to the passbook rate.

SPLASH OF COLOR — Big patterns, bold colors and a dash of the imagination can turn a drab, dark room into one that has a character of its own. Try vinyl wall covering and matching fabrics for tablecloth and curtains to start, then work from there. With a little planning, the end result can be a brighter, cheerful room.

Try a color splash room makeover

Home improvement projects always feel better when they're finished. A splash of fresh color and some simple renovations successfully carried out can give a lift to your spirits as well as a new look to your home. And, with careful planning before you get too far involved, the project can be over with quickly without costing an arm and a leg.

Study room before you start. To add new living space to the home and to do it on a strict budget takes more than an idea.

The most important single decision in pre-planning is the selection of a treatment for the floor. A room with irregular angles can defied conventional solutions, but the designers can turn a defect into an advantage by cutting carpet into angular shapes that echoed the dimensions of the room, then seaming it together and taping it to the floor. A home handyman can do the same with a razor blade knife and a roll of double faced tape.

A COLLECTION of shaggy new carpets lend themselves ideally to such treatment. Made of bright, new, high-luster nylon, they drink up dyes and literally glow in sparkling, high-intensity colors. Of all carpet fibers, nylon wears longest. Tests conducted by a carpet firm show that nylon fibers have the greatest resistance to abrasion of any fiber currently being used for carpet yarn.

If a room is dark, paint the walls a bright color, accent with super graphics. An inexpensive directors' chair and a plywood arrowhead work table can be finished in another color to set off the room.

Splash a bathroom with brilliant color, add rough texture on the floor and some gaily painted wicker pieces, then top everything off with a generous measure of ferns and flowers from the frog pond, and the room has character.

Biggest single item in the room is terms of color, comfort, and decorative interest is the carpet on the floor.

USE TWO CONTRASTING yarn textures to create a nubby, apparently random design effect. The play of color against color also adds to the carpet's living appearance, creating the effect of light and shadow.

"Brighter, fresher colors reflect today's taste," said a room designer. "The new greens are ripe, juicy limes. The new golds are rich, high-intensity lemons. The new reds are hot reds somewhat on the orange side."

"High-intensity color works best in multiples. What you see today are clever orchestrations of color rather than johnny-one-note solids. Color activates color. I call it 'simultaneous twos' when one hue brings another to life.

A combination of different colors in the same carpet serve a very practical purpose, too. That is, they hide soiling. A carpet really isn't dirty until it looks dirty, and carpet designed in multiples of color can help postpone that day."

If you want to know more about how carpet color can work in your home write to Lees Carpets, Norristown, Pa. 19401, and ask for the booklet "101 Questions You Should Ask Yourself Before You Buy Carpet."

Costly painting

The highest price paid at an auction for a painting was the "Portrait of Juan de Pareja," sometimes known as "The Slave of Velazquez," sold for $5,544,000 in 1970 to the Wildenstein Gallery of New York.

Planner helps in room layout

Room planning and furniture arrangement has been like driving country roads without a map — hit or miss all the way. There's finally a solution to rid that decorating headache.

A new, large-scale magnetic room planner has been developed. It already is being found in some furniture and department stores around the country.

The new system, called "Tryon Room Planner," was created by a former Chicago designer who has researched consumer buying problems for the past 4 years.

She found that most people have trouble visualizing the end result, that they don't know what sizes to buy or how to lay out the room and that room arrangement and furniture sizes account for a good portion of all decorating mistakes.

The large scale (1 inch - 1 foot) is 16 times the size of conventional room planners and you don't have to be a decorator or drafting engineer to professionally plan your room.

YOU REALLY CAN picture how it's look finished for it doesn't appear like little circles and squares viewed from an airplane as old type planners. There are 187 plastic magnetic forms representing furniture of all shapes and sizes.

Simply bring your room measurements to the store, draw it on the planning board and "try on" furniture instead of guessing.

If you are being given some of the family furniture, whether hand-me-downs or heirlooms, take along those measurements and you'll be able to see how it will look with the new furniture you're considering.

Many young peoples can't afford to buy everything at once and are concerned about hodge podge results, but Tryon helps get it all together to avoid those mistakes and give a planned program of buying.

SOME ADVICE which applies particularly to brides is:

—Don't make enemies with your best friend by letting her help you unless she's been a successful amateur decorator with a few people other than herself. Better to go to the store and seek the advice of a professional sales person or decorator. They don't bite and are usually free.

—Never measure the room with a cloth tape, use a folding rule, yard stick or steeltape.

—Having someone help you makes the job more accurate, easier and probably more fun.

—Indicate location and measurement of heat vents, built-ins, window and door openings.

—Check depth of base molding, it can make the difference between "tight squeeze" and "not at all."

MAKING SURE IT FITS — With the help of a magnetic planner amateur interior designers can be sure what they are buying will fit into the space without a worry. The planner also helps in layout of the room's furnishings, ending the drudgery of moving a chair from one corner to another until it fits into the plan.

BOY, THAT LOOKS GOOD — Two young Romulus children found it hard to decide which hot dog they wanted during a picnic, staged for residents taking part in the city's parks and recreation department's summer program. Held in Lower Huron Metropark near Belleville, the youngsters were treated to a day of fun and food in exchange for the help in making the play program a success. — The Enterprise-Roman photo.

Van Buren releases revenue sharing tally

A total of $219,609 in federal revenue sharing funds, received by Van Buren Township, have been spent in the areas of public safety and capital improvements, according to a report issued by Van Buren Township Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer.

A breakdown of the expended funds as reflected in the official "actual use report," required by the federal government, were $36,883 spent for the purchase of fire and police vehicles and equipment, $13,930 for the purchase of six new voting machines and $168,808 for the construction of an addition to the township hall.

Gollwitzer said of the $219,609 expended by the township, $123,176 of this total represented a balance of the federal revenue sharing funds for the year ending June 30, 1973. The remaining portion of the total amount spent, or $96,433, was taken from the recent federal revenue sharing funds of $103,259.

The balance of federal revenue sharing funds as of June 30 was reported to be $17,088.

New law increases women's GI benefits

Many women veterans who did not use their GI Bill after the Korean conflict have a second chance at Veterans Administration financial help for a college education or other training.

When eligibility for this veterans' benefit recently was extended by two years for all veterans discharged after Jan. 31, 1955, it had a special significance for women veterans whose children are reaching ages that allow them more free time.

The deadline for completion of training is May 31, 1976, or 10 years from the veteran's date of discharge, whichever is later.

Of the 160,000 women veterans eligible for current GI Bill school benefits, about 54,000 have trained under this program.

Last spring, nearly 21,000 were in training, mostly in college. Only 209 were on-the-job trainees.

Below college level training is available in a wide range of occupations.

Women veterans of the Air Force lead in GI Bill training, with 15,672 having been trained. The Army is running second with 15,361.

Board designates new school site

A 37-acre land parcel situated on Barth Road between Hannan Road and Huron River Drive in Romulus has been selected by the Romulus Board of Education as the location for the school district's new elementary school.

The land site, owned by the school district for more than five years, will be used for the district's second new elementary school, Thomas M. Janack, assistant superintendent in charge of maintenance and operation, said.

The district's building plans call for the construction of a new junior high school and three elementary schools.

The first of the elementary schools currently is under construction at 36900 Wick Rd.

Construction plans have been approved for the new North Junior High School, to be built at 37204 Wick Rd., according to Janack.

The Romulus Elementary School, situated at 11401 Olive St., has been re-christened as South Junior High School.

Booklet lists rec program

A new 6-page recreational pamphlet, prepared by the Van Buren Township Parks and Recreation Department is being distributed this week to township residents in a door-to-door campaign by youth volunteers.

The pamphlet describes the scheduled fall, winter and spring recreational programs and activities.

Jeffery G. Clark, the recreation director, said the volunteers include high school students and members of the area Boy Scout and Girl Scout units.

Copies of the pamphlet also are available at the township hall, 46245 Tyler Rd.

DON'T
TAKE THE
SEAT

Let's face facts. Live drivers are safe drivers. Whether you think you're the world's greatest driver or not, there's always the other guy. The guy who runs the light, who drinks too much, who didn't see the sign. Over the holiday, there are always more of them. And the only way to avoid serious accidents is to be a careful driver. Keep a safe and steady hand on that wheel. If you don't, death can be in your driver's seat, too!

In post-energy crisis travel

Motorists to log less miles during holiday

Despite a post-energy crisis upsurge in Michigan tourism this summer motorists are expected to drive four per cent fewer miles on state highways this Labor Day weekend than during the same holiday in 1973. "Although gasoline is in plentiful supply throughout the state, we speculate that increased fuel costs will result in motorists taking shorter trips during the holiday period," said Joseph Ratke, Auto Mobile Club of Michigan touring manager. Based on surveys, the average price for a gallon of regular gas in Michigan—58.8

cents—is 40 per cent higher than the average price last Labor Day weekend.

During the 78-hour holiday—which runs from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sept. 2—approximately 3.3 million vehicles in Michigan will travel an estimated 627 million miles. This compares with 652 million miles logged on state highways last year by the same number of vehicles.

While the apparent trend toward shorter trips may put a slight damper on Michigan tourism this Labor Day weekend, Auto Club data shows that it has helped boost tourism in the state this summer.

Requests by Auto Club members for travel routings in the Lower Peninsula are up 6.5 percent for the first seven months of 1974 as compared to the equivalent period last year. Upper Peninsula travel routings have increased 11 per cent during this period.

In comparison, Ratke said requests for routings to other parts of the United States and Canada are lagging behind last year's figures. The only exceptions are nearby Ontario and other eastern Canada destinations, which have seen a 28 per cent increase in popularity during the first seven months this year.

A recent survey of seven major Michigan resort areas found business up an average of 15 per cent so far this summer as compared with a year ago.

A survey of state tourist attractions also showed that most have experienced a significant business pick-up since June. While Greenfield Village and the Iron Mountain

Iron Mine reported a 10-12 per cent drop in attendance through July, such attractions as the Bob-Lo boat rides, Stagecoach Stop in the Irish Hills and Mackinac Island stores indicated a five to 15 per cent increase in visitors so far this year.

Travelers to popular Michigan resort centers over Labor Day weekend are advised to make motel and hotel reservations now since many areas are expecting near capacity crowds.

Van Buren board to study rezoning

The Van Buren Township Zoning Board of Appeals will consider six appeals, variances and requests for special approval when the zoning board of appeals meets at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

The meeting will be at the township hall, 46425 Tyler Rd. Scheduled for consideration at the meeting are a request filed by the Michigan Gun Clubs Inc., 2900 Pine Lake Rd., Orchard Lake, for a gun club permit renewal and a request made by Gerald Gragg of 50110 Bog Rd., Belleville, for permission to start at business in his home.

The zoning board also will rule on a request by Richard A. Waddell of 6290 Hannan Rd., who is seeking permission to keep a horse in a residential area.

Frank J. Marabito of Warren, Mich., and the Marathon Oil Co. of Southfield are seeking permission to erect signs in the township. The oil firm also is seeking board approval of a front yard setback on its township property.

Bridge hikers to meet

The 17th annual Labor Day morning Mackinac Bridge Walk is scheduled to begin Monday at 7:30 a.m.

Some 20,000 to 25,000 persons are expected to participate in this once-a-year opportunity to walk across Mackinac Bridge over the historic Straits of Mackinac.

Since this is an election year, the event will be made more colorful by the presence of state and local candidates for office and their retinues of boosters, pom pom girls and distributors of a variety of promotional materials, all adding to the festivity of the event, a walk planner said.

Gov. William Milliken, who has participated in the walk annually since his elevation to that office and is the Republican candidate for reelection, will be on hand to lead the general walk at 7:30 a.m. as will his Democratic opponent, Sander Levin.

Preceding the general bridge walk will be novice races conducted by the International Walkers Association which sponsored the first bridge walk in 1958. These races commence at 7:15 a.m. Trophies will be awarded to four classifications: men and women, boys and girls. Registration is necessary to participate in this event.

Persons interested may sign up at the Bridge Plaza (north side) prior to the commencement of these races; or they may write to the International Walkers Association, 569 Cornell Ave., East Lansing, 48823. Registration fee is 50 cents.

Bridge walkers are advised to provide their own transportation to the starting point on the fare plaza on the St. Ignace side of the bridge. However, some 65 buses will be transporting bridge walkers commencing at 5:45 a.m. in Mackinaw City. The deadline for starting the bridge walk is 10 a.m. The buses are also available for participants requiring northbound transportation after the bridge walk. The bus fare is 50 cents.

Sumpter approves reimbursement

The Sumpter Township Fire Department will be receiving a few additional dollars, following action by the Sumpter Township Board of Trustees recently in approving a reimbursement for the purchase of emergency equipment.

The department will receive $110 for the equipment.

In other action at the recent trustee meeting, the board instructed the township's dog warden that impounded dogs should not be held beyond the customary 7-day period.

The trustees also approved an amendment to the township's water ordinance, permitting the use of plastic from the property line to the home, if the homeowner desires it.

The board also issued a certificate of appreciation to Michael W. Berry for his work with the township's recreation department.

It also accepted the verbal resignation of part-time police officer Henry Howard Galloway.

4 of 5 cities have new golf champs

Piscopink wins by 5-shot margin

TOM PISCOPINK
New Golf King

By TOM MOORADIAN
Eagle Sports Editor

Three-time Wayne champ Tom Piscopink fired a final round 73 Sunday to wind up five strokes ahead of his nearest challenger, Garden City's Ron Smith, in capturing the 36-hole 19th annual City Championship Golf Tournament held at Fellow's Creek Golf Course.

The 27-year-old veteran golfer finished one-over-par for the tournament with rounds of 72-73 for a total of 145, whipping the field of 100 golfers who fought for the city titles of Wayne, Westland, Garden City, Inkster and Canton Township.

Piscopink's performance gave him his first tournament title in six years. Though he has held the title in Wayne for three consecutive years, the gregarious Piscopink has "never managed to win the big one."

"I'M HAPPY and surprised that I won it," said the elated champ. "It's obvious why I'm happy - this thing has eluded me since I entered back in 1969."

"I'm surprised that I won it because I really haven't been playing that much this year."

Enterprise Roman Sports

-A PANAX PUBLICATION-

Wednesday, August 28, 1974

Piscopink continued, "and I wasn't hitting the ball well." An employee of Independent Floor Covering, Piscopink has a couple of serious first round challengers in Inkster's George Swistock Jr. and Smith.

Smith was the co-leader while Swistock shot a one-over par 73 the first day, then withdrew nine holes into the second round after an incredulous 48.

PISCOPINK had his problems the second day on the 11th hole where he took a triple bogie and pointed out "it was a touch and go situation right up to the 17th."

"I thought I blew it with that touch of bad luck, but when he got to the 17th, I knew I had this one," he smiled.

There were new champs in four of the five cities.

Smith came back to card a 78 on the second day and the ex-All-Area golfer from Garden City West High finished as runnerup in the tournament and also as the new Garden City champ.

With 12 years of golfing experience behind him, Smith regained the touch that gave him the Garden City title three years ago. He had a five-stroke cushion over Herb Bedard and Ted Lipski, whose 155's gave them a tie for second place.

Bedard beat Lipski in a "sudden death" playoff to get a firm grip on the second place trophy.

WESTLAND also had a "dead heat" for first place in the championship flight when both Bill McCloud and George Tomlinson turned up with identical scores of 156.

The playoff ended in McCloud's victory. Two strokes back of the Westland frontrunners were Gary Beer, Paul Dieder and Kevin Schaum all of whom checked in with 158's. Beer managed to win the playoff for third place while Dieder and Schaum agreed on a tie for fourth.

The closeness of the city battles was reflected in Wayne. Though Piscopink dominated the city championship, two veteran golfers Dan Schewe and Ken McKee were forced into a playoff for second and third places.

Schewe settled the second place issue by winning the playoff.

JAMES JACKSON regained the Inkster throne he lost a year ago by scoring a five stroke victory over Lacey Hill. Jackson strung together rounds of 77 and 74 for a total of 151 to claim the city title. He has won the Inkster title

By TOM MOORADIAN

The City Golf Championships are supposed to be a "fun tournament."

But, believe me, the golfers who compete in the annual classic - this year in its 19th year - are "dead serious" about their games.

That seriousness was reflected yesterday on their faces as they strolled into the club house after sweating it out on the course.

And one player's agony was over sooner than expected. George Swistock Jr., who won the Inkster title last year and was a favorite to replace Garden City's Charles Sosna as the tournament champ, withdrew after a disastrous second round.

"It was unbelievable," said the 25-year-old Swistock as he glanced over his score at Fellow's Creek. "I had 27 putts on the front side. I knew I was in trouble right off the tee. I have been playing every day for the past two weeks."

Swistock fired a one over par 73 on Saturday to emerge as one of the leaders in the field of 100.

SWISTOCK JUST CAME OFF a successful tournament at Bedford Valley Golf Course where he placed third at the Michigan Open staged in Battle Creek.

"That's golf for you," moaned the good-looking golfer. "Just when you think you have put things together, your game crumbles. I wish I could go out there and start all over."

There's always next year, George.

Speaking of next year, the 20th annual tournament will not suffer from the malaise of its predecessors. To make sure that all the golfers in the area who wish to play in the tourney will get in, we're reserving a golf course now.

Because we were late, we weren't able to find a course to handle the numbers that usually compete in this annual meet.

The owners of Fellow's Creek were kind enough to squeeze us in.

And we would like to thank them for their help.

What shape was the course in this year?

Let's go back to Swistock for the answer.

"It is the best I have ever seen it. I can't blame what happened to me on anything but myself. Do you know I shot a 30 here Friday night?"

THERE WERE other disappointments. Al Whited, one of the stalwarts of the tournament, was a "no show." Whited, who has won the tournament championship more than any other golfer, mysteriously didn't appear for this year's battle.

Wonder where our champ is?

And, another "no show" was Westland's Art Bettinger. Art is a "human computer" who can glance at a score card and immediately tell you if there are discrepancies in the score.

Able taking Bettinger's place was Russ Scott, representing the Westland Parks and Recreation Department. Also on hand was Ray Wiacek Jr., who handled the work for the Garden City Parks and Recreation Department, and Ron Wolkowicz, Inkster Parks and Recreation director.

COVETED VICTORY — Though he has won the Wayne title three years in a row, Tom Piscopink (at right) never previously could find the touch to claim the city Championship Golf crown. He rectified that Sunday at Fellow's Creek as he emerged from the field with a 36-hole total of 145. Piscopink is being congratulated by Mike Gowin, representing the Wayne Parks and Recreation Department.

Football contests set for area's youngsters

Punt, Pass and Kick (PP&K) Ford Division's no-contact football contest that annually records the names of six youngsters in the Football Hall of Fame, will launch its 14th season September 3.

Registration will continue through October 4, with the first of six levels of competition to be held a day later at parks, playgrounds and football fields around the country. About 1,200,000 youngsters are expected to enroll.

"PP&K has been heralded by professional sports figures and governmental and civic leaders as one of the finest CO-SPONSORED by the National Football League (NFL) and Ford dealers throughout the country, PP&K programs of its kind in the United States," said Douglas T. McClure, Ford Division merchandising manager.

The annual enrollment figures - more than 1,000,000 for each of the past six years - prove the youth of America and their parents recognize PP&K as a major sports activity.

Eligible youngsters can register at participating Ford dealerships when accompanied by a parent or guardian. Registrants compete only against those in their own age group. No special equipment is needed.

The competition, based on distance and accuracy, awards one point for every foot of punting, passing and kicking distance and deducts one point for each foot away from a center line.

The six levels of competition are local, zone, district, area, divisional and final. Twelve national finalists, two in each of the six age groups, will compete at the nation's televised National Football Conference championship December 29. All finalists and their parents will be guests of Ford Division at the game.

Winners will have their names inscribed on the permanent PP&K display at the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio. NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle will present the winners' trophies.

ALL AMERICAN CANDIDATE — Now in his third year at the University of Minnesota, ex-Bellefonte High grid star Keith Simons has started every game the last two years and is still a junior. The young giant is a sure bet for All-American honors the next two seasons. Keith has exceptional speed for his size (6-5, 247) having been clocked in 4.75 for the 40. He has spent two years learning, and now should really come off the mark on his own. Coach Cal Stoll calls Keith one of the best he has coached.

Despite their first loss in three years of competition, Blue Boar Inn displayed its power to add its second title of the year to its long list of accomplishments.

Blue Boar won the Belleville Softball League playoff championship, a feat it had little trouble doing.

In the first round of competition, Blue Boar eliminated the Belleville Teachers, the only team to beat the champs during their regular season. The PLAV ousted the Ducks, setting up the championship duel.

BLUE BOAR then dumped the PLAV contingent in two straight games to retain the playoff championship.

Ex-Tiger is Romulus LL speaker

Ex-Tiger pitcher Bill Hoelt who shared the limelight with Frank Lary back in 1956 when Hoelt piled up a 20-14 won-lost record will be the guest speaker at Romulus Little League Baseball Banquet.

The banquet will be held on Thursday at 8 p.m. at Romulus High School.

Hoelt and Lary combined to give the Tigers 41 of their victories in that 1956 campaign and he'll recall some of the highlights of his career in a tiger uniform.

Parents and friends of Little Leaguers are cordially invited to attend.

Tattle Mar's earnings of $23,100 in the Michigan Breeders Stakes last Sunday more than doubled the five-year-old mare's earnings for 1974. The daughter of Rattle Dancer-Rose Asmar has proven herself to be one of the most versatile runners around these parts.

Lovich is named Franklin's new AD

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

George Lovich, the most successful coach in Livonia Franklin's history, was named this week to head the department of athletics at the high school.

Lovich, 35, succeeds Walt Cosens who suffered a fatal heart attack last April.

"I only wish I can run the department half as well as Walt did," said Lovich who becomes the fourth man to hold the AD position in the school's history. "Walt had everything here in perfect control."

GEORGE LOVICH

LOVICH, a native of Pennsylvania, arrived on the local scene in 1963 as a teacher at Franklin. However, it wasn't until 1968 that he received an opportunity to become head football coach at the high school, again succeeding Cosens.

Over a span of six years

Lovich has fielded outstanding teams and players. He tied for the Northwest Suburban Conference championship three years ago and won it last year outright, finishing the season with a 8-1 over-all record.

Lovich prepped at Monessen in Pennsylvania then went on to get his Bachelor of Science degree in education at California State College (Penn.). He also holds a masters from Eastern Michigan University.

"I wanted to be involved in the total athletic program here," said Lovich when asked why he wanted the AD's job. "And this is my opportunity."

WILLIE step down as head football coach?

"I will coach the team this year - that's for certain," said Lovich, "but we will have to play it by ear after that. I really don't know what will happen after this season in over."

Lovich added that the school will be reinstating golf, a sport that was deleted from the program three years ago because of finances.

He pointed out the gym, which was ruined last spring when the waters in the school's pool flooded the area, is well on its way to being repaired.

Married to Mary Ann, George and his wife have three children: Ann Marie 10, Liza 8 and Kathleen, 5. The Lovichs make their home in Canton Township.

Wiacek Jr., presently working a summer job as public relation assistant for Congr. William Ford, is a law major at Harvard University.

Bill Hawley, who has played in 15 of the 19 tournaments, and is the tournament director, would like to see some changes made in the 1975 format.

He noted: "We are actually penalizing the better players because we are not adhering to strict tournament rules. The good golfer follows the rules while the duffer abuses them."

"For example, I had one good golfer address the ball, and inadvertently moved it. He penalized himself a stroke. However, a duffer would not necessarily give himself a penalty under the same situation."

"Next year we should have specific rules to eliminate these problems," said Hawley.

Thanks Bill.

And thanks for a great tournament again this year.

"There is more to the game than just golfing," said Tom Piscopink as he sipped a cold drink in an attempt to appease his thirst and anger.

Piscopink had shot a one-over-par 143 at Fellow's Creek Golf Course Sunday to win his first City Golf Championship tournament title, but something or one on the course irritated him.

He was obviously disturbed by the antics of one of the golfers in his foursome.

"I've played this tournament for seven years now and I've blown chances to win it more times than I want to recall, but I still didn't do what I saw out there."

"THIS GUY RIPPED up his equipment and spoiled the day for all of us as far as I'm concerned," continued Piscopink. "He paid the consequences though as far as I'm concerned. I hope I never see another like him."

Piscopink suggested that in the future there should be a way to disqualify such golfers, "who lack the sportsmanship to compete in a manner one takes for granted."

"Personally, I felt the guy lost his cool, because he thought he was going to win it."

Though there were other complaints - but none as serious as the one Piscopink lodged, the 1974 city championships at Fellow's Creek was one of the best organized in its history.

Whenever one gets 100 golfers together, there is bound to be complaints. However, this year's tournament ran smoothly thanks to the efforts of Bill Hawley, the tournament manager, and the management of Fellow's Creek.

However, the future meets should prepare for any unforeseen circumstance. As Ken McKee, an annual figure at these tournaments said: "I think the time has come when a committee should handle the organizational aspects and staging of the tournament."

"The tournament has become very popular with area residents and if we had three like it during the summer months, I'm sure you could get 100 or more golfers to enter."

"I REMEMBER when these things were just beginning, we couldn't find 40 guys to come out and compete," continued McKee. "So, instead of tossing this thing on one man's shoulder, I feel we should have a committee with each of the participating cities represented."

It sure would take a load off of Hawley's shoulders."

two out of the past three years. Hill's 156 gave him second place and one stroke back was Jimmy White who carded a 157.

DAVE KOSTEVA is in the process of moving to Sandusky, Ohio, where he was transferred by the Ford Motor Company. But before the Canton Township golfer gathered up his family and left for his new environment he dethroned Bill Hawley as the township champ.

Kostevas struggled with an 80 the first day but regained his poise yesterday to score a 79, parlaying a 162 total for a two-stroke victory over runners-up Hawley, Al Rogers and Chuck Sheets.

The trio had finished deadlocked at 164. Rogers won the playoff for second place and Sheets was awarded third place.

The separate city championships not only decided the city titles for the five participating cities, but determined the makeup of the city teams that will compete in next month's Michigan Parks and Recreation Association's state tournament.

Romulus crowns champ

There was something new and something old - and a bit of revenge when the curtains came down on the 1974 Romulus Ladies Softball League last week.

They'll be sports at U-M Dearborn

DEARBORN — The University of Michigan-Dearborn will initiate a program of limited varsity athletics beginning with the fall 1974 semester.

Richard T. Sypula, UM-Dearborn's director of intramural and recreational athletics, announced that the program will include both men's and women's competition. The men's varsity program begins this fall with soccer, to be followed in the winter season by basketball and hockey.

Spring sports are yet to be finalized, with either golf or tennis, or both as possible varsity teams.

WOMEN'S TEAMS will include basketball and volleyball. Fencing will be conducted on a coeducational basis.

"Athletics at UM-D are in a developmental stage," says Sypula, adding that the campus is "ready to support an organized program of varsity competition."

Sad Day

It was a sad day for Mark Wallerstedt and Audley Farms last Sunday when Bartizan broke down on the stretch turn, snapping a foreleg. The prize gelding had to be destroyed. Bartizan had won more than $16,000 last year and $12,000 in 1974.

Kid Power avenged an earlier loss to East power, Odd Squad, with a 12 to 8 win in the first game ever played at Romulus' new lighted softball field at Elmer Johnson park.

Odd Squad earned its right to play in the city championship by defeating Kid Power for the league championship.

Kid Power reciprocated by winning the playoffs.

THEIRA GRAY led Kid Power's attack with two home runs and two singles. Theresa Gibson also homered and gave an outstanding performance at shortstop. Gloria Casey added a triple and two singles as well as pitching an excellent game.

Vicky Gray collected a triple and a single, Joyce Gray, two singles and Tina Wilson, a double and a single.

Debbie Wilcox performed flawlessly at shortstop for the Odd Squad and belted two home runs. Beth Podgorny also homered.

Leading hitters were Pat

Holcomb with three, Janeal Eberline, Pat Dick, and Sherry Wilcox, all with two hits each.

After opposing each other throughout the season, the coaches for the two championship teams commented. Ron Dick, coach of the Odd Squad, said "that our team truly enjoyed league play, the spirit of competition and the chance to participate in a worthwhile project for the ladies of the community of Romulus."

Perry Gray, coach of Kid Power, expressed a note of thanks to the Romulus Jaycees, and the Romulus City Recreation for continuing the R.L.S.L. for its second year, and also to congratulate the Odd Squad team on a very good game.

He also thanked Gary Johnson and Lou Warden for supervising the league and extended "Thankyou" to the general public for its support in making this league a success.

Product safety group warns of pool hazards

The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission has warned that almost 50,000 persons will require hospital emergency room treatment this year in accidents associated with some of the nation's four million swimming pools.

Residential in-ground pools number about one million and home above-ground pools are estimated at three million, according to the National Swimming Pool Institute.

Commission injury statistics indicate that 39,500 persons annually will seek hospital emergency room care for injuries involving below-five percent of the injured will involve persons 19 and under, and almost twice as many boys as girls will be hurt.

The National Safety Council reported that 600 children and adults drown annually in swimming pools, 330 in home pools.

Swimming alone or without adult supervision leads to many drownings. Each year, headlines note the deaths of infants and children who tumble into pools and drown because a gate was left open or they otherwise were able to gain access to a pool when no one was around to save them.

Many severe injuries result from falling on slippery walkways and decks and falling from diving board and ladders. Diving and jumping into shallow water also are major causes of serious injuries.

The severity of injuries associated with swimming pool water slides led to a commission decision in June to commence a proceeding to develop a mandatory safety standard for slides.

The commission also is considering a variety of approaches that could reduce injuries associated with other pool hazards such as sharp edges and protruding bolts, slippery ladders, decks and diving boards, lack of depth indicators, shock hazards from electrical wiring and problems of exploding filter tanks.

On abortion issue

Society chief reaffirms position

The chief executive officer of the Knights of Columbus has taken sharp issue with the notion that the fight against abortion is strictly a Catholic effort.

Supreme Knight John W. McDevitt reminded in his annual report to the society's Supreme Council that such tactics "should not trick zealous Catholic Laymen into forsaking their crusade to preserve life."

The Catholic lay leader charged that many pro-abortionists "try both to minimize and to discredit opposition to unrestrained killing of the unborn" by labeling such efforts as merely a Catholic concern.

"The solution is not to ask Catholics to take a lower profile, but to encourage other religious and civic groups to set a higher one," he maintained.

In encouraging the members of the order to continue their support of anti-abortion measures, McDevitt shot a sharp remark toward the media.

"In view of the generally permissive and sometimes crusadingly pro-abortion attitude of large sections of the communications media, those who support the sanctity of human life are faced with a decidedly uphill battle," he said. "But the burden of the problem should not attempt to defeatism. Right has a inherent power that can overcome the greatest odds.

"There must be no letup in our efforts to educate the public on the inhumanity of killing the unborn. Nor should we hesitate to confront our political representatives on this crucial moral issue."

Check batteries

Car batteries should have their water level checked every two weeks in hot weather, according to car care experts. High temperatures evaporate electrolyte, leaving plates exposed and in danger of buckling and sulphating.

Newsman sits in county seat

An experienced newsman, having more than 14 years of journalistic experience under his belt, has been appointed to head a new public information office for the Wayne County Road Commission (WCRC).

Louis J. Sugo, 39, a veteran Detroit newsman, had been a staff writer for a large Detroit Daily Newspaper since 1960. Prior to joining the daily's staff, he had served as a sports editor of a suburban weekly.

As a reporter, Sugo handled general assignment and feature stories later covering the Downriver-Western Wayne County suburban communities with special focus on local governmental affairs.

Michael Berry, chairman of the WCRC, said the $23,045 position will enable the 3-member commission and its staff to increase its capabilities in making information available to the public.

"Residents of Wayne County should be kept fully informed on current WCRC projects and of upcoming programs possibly affecting them," Berry said.

The WCRC is responsible for roads, including major freeways throughout the county, as well as sewer and water, parks, and operation of the Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport in Romulus.

A native of Detroit, Sugo attended Catholic Central High School and the University of Detroit. The new director, his wife, Elizabeth, and their four children, reside in Allen Park.

Blaze demolishes vacant farmhouse

A 2-story, aluminum-sided vacant farmhouse located at Martz and Rawsonville roads, Van Buren Township, has been destroyed by a fire of undetermined cause.

The blaze was extinguished by firemen from the Van Buren Township Fire Department with assistance from the Augusta Township Fire Department.

When firemen arrived on the scene, the fire was reported to be leaping out of the windows. A nearby fire hydrant could not keep up with the demand for water, so a tanker truck was brought in from Augusta Township with water to fight the blaze.

According to neighbors, the farmhouse has been vacant for the last two months and also has been broken into by vandals.

Board solicits bids for new vehicles

The equipment up for sale can be inspected by appointment Monday through Friday between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.

The bids received by the school board by the Sept. 9, 4:30 p.m. deadline will be opened at the school board meeting of Sept. 9.

and Highland Park, which are served by other community colleges such as Henry Ford, Schoolcraft and Highland Park.

The boundaries for Ryan's district have been revised since his election in June 1968 to reflect the 1970 Federal census. A major change moves the City of Taylor to the downriver trustee district.

Ryan invited candidates for the board to secure nominating petitions from Margaret Horn, secretary to the board, to be filed by Sept. 18.

The outgoing trustee expressed his appreciation to local residents and local school boards for their support during difficult times for the college.

College trustee declines to run

Wayne County Community College trustee, John R. Ryan, has decided that he will not be a candidate for reelection to a 6-year term in the November general election.

Wayne County Community College is governed by seven trustees elected from districts of equal population covering all of Wayne County except for Dearborn, Garden City, Livonia, Plymouth, Northville
